#Breathtember

Higgle Piggle from the children's programme 'In the Night Garden' helped celebrate #Breathtember with us this year. As most of you know by now, we have renamed September (Global Pulmonary Fibrosis Awareness Month) as '#Breathtember'. At our stall in Sainsbury's Warren Street, Higgle Piggle helped us spread the word and raise a tremendously lucky £88.88!

We renamed most of the autumn months at our second #Breathtember stall at UCH by joining up with the Stoptober antismoking team. If you have any problems quitting, visit: http://bit.ly/1LehocX for some tips.

And thank you to our supporters who joined in the challenge of `Getting Out of Breath for #Breathtember and for tweeting, retweeting and sending in their photos of them climbing stairs, running, rafting, trampolining, dancing, swimming and so much more. The term `#Breathtember' was retweeted more times than ever before; so thank you for spreading awareness!

The eagerly awaited laboratory refurbishment is at last complete and we are excited that the New Year will be very productive after being uprooted from the laboratories for the move. The refurb has been funded by UCL as part of their commitment to keep the buildings in working order.

Dr Manuela Plate, one of our researchers says, "The newly refurbished labs are truly wonderful. It is not just the way they look, it is also the way spaces have been designed around us. It has really improved the way we work and the quality of our output. A big success all round!".

Pulmonary Fibrosis Roundup by Dr Porter

- ⇒ Dr Theresia Mikolasch (Breathing Matters Lawrence Matz Clinical Fellow) presented the UCLH experience of relatively non-invasive cryobiopsies at the European Respiratory Society in Amsterdam in September. Dr Mikolasch will also present at the British Thoracic Society meeting in December.
- ⇒ Dr Akif Khawaja is presenting his work on rheumatoid arthritis associated interstitial lung disease (ILD) at the American Society of Rheumatology in November in San Francisco.
- ⇒ Dr Sara Brilha has completed a paper looking at the effect of fibrosis on the lung epithelium which is now submitted for publication.

The group continues to grow and has signed up to five new clinical trials in ILD to join our portfolio of ongoing studies.

Lung Infection Roundup by Prof Brown

It has been a busy year for publications for the Lung Infection group with 11 research papers published so far. The highlights are a paper in the Journal of Allergy and Clinical Immunology (Suri et al in press JACI) describing how exposure to welding fumes makes pneumonia more likely, and a paper published in November in the European Respiratory Journal (Quint et al. Europ Resp J in press 2015) which shows that bronchiectasis is much commoner than previously thought and is increasing in both incidence and prevalence as well as associated with a marked increase in age-dependent mortality.

We Applaud You! Thank you to all of our patients and fundraisers for taking part in the trials and for providing the means for us to keep these important studies going. For more information, visit: http://bit.ly/1Y8VoEK
